

French Studies BA

Overview

The Bachelor of Arts in French Studies, offered by the Department of Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures, is tailored to students who want to build their French language skills through the intermediate level and deepen their knowledge of French and Francophone cultures as they relate to a different area of study, including but not limited to cinema, literature, history, political science, and art. Interdisciplinary by design, this curriculum gives students the latitude to integrate courses from other departments into their studies, based on their interests. In this way, students can collaborate with others across different degree programs, enjoying a broad scope of ideas and perspectives, while acquiring language skills and following avenues of inquiry in French Studies. Students will achieve a solid foundation in the French language and a comprehensive understanding of the cultures, people, and practices of France and the Francophone world.

Restrictions: Students may not combine this program with the following CLA programs:

- BA in Liberal Studies
- BA in French

    - See the College of Liberal Arts Policies section of this Bulletin for more information on the Foreign Language Placement, Regression in Coursework, and guidelines for students' other experiences with language.

General Electives are typically one-third of a student's program of study and can be focused on a second major, a minor, or towards some other personal enrichment or professional goals. See an academic advisor for assistance in developing an academic plan for these courses.

Major Requirements: Ten courses in French (30 credits)

Prerequisites: FREN 1001 and FREN 1002 with a minimum grade of C- or equivalent placement.

Students who initially place beyond FREN 1003 may begin with FREN 2001 or a course beyond 2001, as appropriate. Students who begin with higher placement will need to substitute with additional courses in French to replace the lower level credits in their program.
